What Can You Do?- Pastor Glover

When you read this, we will have just celebrated Reformation Day. If there is one thing I hope you gleaned from my Reformation sermon, it is this: you are good with God. That's right, to God, you are righteous. In the eyes of God, you are perfect.

I also hope you heard this: you don't do anything to earn favor with God. Our Lord Jesus did that for you. His life, death, and resurrection are why you are good with God. His perfection is why you are perfect too. As Luther and the reformers made crystal clear: our works do nothing to justify us. It is only and solely our faith in Christ that does so.

While I hope you heard this in my Reformation sermon, I also hope you hear it in every sermon. This was the point of the Reformation: that all of our teachings – that all of our preaching point us to Jesus. Everything we believe, teach, and confess as (Lutheran) Christians should always be about what Jesus has done and continues to do for us. It should never be about us, because our works will never be enough. Our works will never justify us.

But what does this mean when we are confronted with evil in our world? What does Christ's righteousness mean when we read about the barbaric violence occurring in Israel? What does faith in Jesus mean when we consider the ongoing atrocities in Ukraine? How does the life, death, and resurrection of our Lord help us understand the horror that occurred in Lewiston, Maine on October 25 when a man killed (as of this writing) 18 people and injured 13 more? Isn't there something we can do to stop things like this from occurring?

I wish I could offer a definitive answer to that question. That is, I wish I could say, do this and the violence will stop. Do this, and the wars will cease. Sadly, such violence and wars will only end when our Lord returns (and what a glorious day that will be!).

But...

You can do something. You can share the hope and certainty we have as Christians with others. You can unburden others by pointing them to the cross. You can help ease their pain by reminding them that there is a God who died for them – a Savior who defeated death for them. You can be the light of Jesus to others. You can take the message of the Reformation, which is the message of Christianity, and proclaim it to those who do not know it. And when you do so, rejoice, for the Spirit can work wonders. He can create faith even we you never thought it possible. He can change lives – He can change the world though the message of His Son!

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Glover

Sing, Sing, Sing! - Joshua L. Mazur

Lord, let at last thine angels come, to Abr'ham's bosom bear me home that I may die unfearing... (LSB 708:1)

Every day of her life, my mother prayed and sang. A stroke made her unable to communicate and mostly unresponsive one afternoon in December of 2020, and once she was in her room at “Good Shepherd” hospice in Lake Wales, we picked up where she left off on her behalf. It makes it much easier to face the harsh reality of death when you’re fervently assuring someone else of their hope in Jesus, doesn’t it?

After a week and a half in the care of hospice, she died. Shortly before she took her final breath, Hannah and I prayed for her peaceful departure from this world and for the freedom from dementia, and the constant pain that awaited her in the arms of Jesus; and, yes, though choked with tears, we sang.

And in it's narrow chamber keep my body safe in peaceful sleep until Thy reappearing... (LSB 708:3)

Growing up in a very Pentecostal/Charismatic Baptist church, we were not encouraged to pray pre-determined prayers, and we were not at all liturgical. Be that as it may, we would sing for at least 30 minutes every Sunday in worship together (and at the prayer meeting Tuesday nights, and in choir rehearsal on Wednesday night, and any other time there was a meeting or event) the mighty hymns and spirituals of the church. The words of these songs flood my brain as I write, and as they did the day Mom died. Words of peace and comfort, of lament and sorrow, of hope and of God’s Amazing Grace. Due in no small part to these songs and hymns, I have never once doubted my mother’s baptism or her salvation.

*Let no false doctrine me beguile;
Let Satan not my soul defile.
Give strength and patience unto me to bear my cross and follow thee. (LSB 708:2)*

We were taught specifically that we should never depend on prayers and recitations that “some man wrote down.” We were supposed to be spontaneous, inward, informal, and unregulated in our prayer life. We got “in the devotional mood” and our voices became breathy and light (lest they be considered too strong and un-humble!) “You don’t have to kneel, or even say it out loud!” we were told.

I was taught rightly that I could approach God myself thanks to the atoning sacrifice of His Son Jesus, but I wasn't taught what prayer is. I would often say to myself something to the effect of, "Did I say that "little prayer" the right way? Am I really saved? I don't feel saved." It is not the same thing to pray to feel brave when you mean to pray for courage, nor to pray for forgiveness but not believe in it because we don't instantly get to feel forgiven. If my salvation is measured by how saved I feel from day to day, then I am truly lost. Thanks be to God that this isn't a right and good measure of the truth.

*And should my heart for sorrow break,
my trust in thee can nothing shake.
Thou art the portion I have sought;
thy precious blood my soul has bought. (LSB 708:1)*

In despair I was driving down to Lake Wales the day they moved Mom to the hospice home and, having been present with many people in their final moments, asked "What can I say to my mother at a time like this?" Pastor Glover, who was our unofficial vacancy pastor at the time, responded, "Pray with her. Assure her of God's grace. Assure her she has nothing to fear; God is with her."

And so, when I got there in the middle of the night, I went into that blessed and holy room where she was, and, quietly, did just that: I sang.

*"Blessed assurance, Jesus is mine! Oh, what a foretaste of glory divine!
Heir of salvation, purchase of God - Born of his Spirit, washed in His blood"*

"Just as I am, without one plea, but that Thy blood was shed for me, and that Thou bidd'st me come to Thee, O Lamb of God, I come! I come!"

"Tis so sweet to trust in Jesus, just to take Him at His word, just to rest upon His promise, just to know "Thus saith the Lord!"

At just shy of 30 years old I think I finally learned to pray right there with her at that "Good Shepherd" hospice home. She would be tickled to know that.

It's easy to think the responses, the readings, and the hymns and songs are all just a matter of routine and ritual until one recognizes how these responses and these glorious hymns spring to our mind when we need them... and we don't always know when we will need them; grief doesn't often announce its arrival. We run and run from it, and there it finds us in the middle of a sunny street on a beautiful day.

Love and music are the last things to go. I know she heard me. She sang those songs to me in my crib after bearing me into this life, and I got to sing them for her as He bore her into the next one.

As we sing together this coming Sunday, don't just go through the motions of the "Service." We repeat God's Word given to us in response to His overwhelming love. Faith is created in those who hear and fortified in those who hear again and again. Be boldly audible; pronounce each word as if our lives depend on it. And if there is doubt in your mind that someone would find benefit in this, please sing loudly for me. I need so desperately to hear it.

*Hold Thou Thy cross before my closing eyes shine through the gloom and point me to the skies
Heaven's morning breaks, and earth's vain shadows flee
In life, in death, o Lord, abide with me. (LSB 878:6)*

2023 Gift Card Program to Benefit the Preschool

Are you planning to give gift cards for Christmas? How about getting gift cards for yourself or someone's birthday? Again this year, Abiding Savior has a program where you can purchase those cards. And, there's a bonus: a percentage of what you pay will be returned to the preschool in the form of a cash rebate. Read on...

How does the program work? You either fill out an order form and return it to the Church or Preschool along with your payment or go on-line to purchase using your credit or debit card.

Where are the order forms? Order forms are available in the narthex as well as in the Church and Preschool offices. They also can be emailed.

Church Website Information: Go to <https://www.abidingsavior.info/home>. On the blue ribbon highlight "Preschool" and then click "Gift Card Fundraiser".

On the next page when you click “Purchase cards online here” you will be taken to the information and order pages. Follow instructions on the subsequent pages.

When will the orders be accepted? Orders will be accepted between Wednesday, November 1 and Sunday, December 10. The completed order form and payment can be submitted on Sunday mornings or at the Church or Preschool offices during normal business hours during the week. On-line orders can be made 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Orders received after December 10th will be processed in January, so get your orders in early.

What about paying for the cards? Payment must be made at the time of the order with cash, a check or with a credit or debit card. Unless purchasing on-line, paying with a credit or debit card must be made in person. There will be a 3% processing reimbursement fee added to the total when using a credit or debit card. There’s no additional fee if paying with cash or a check.

When will the cards be available for pick up? The first group of orders must be submitted by Sunday, November 12 and the final group of orders before Christmas must be submitted by Sunday, December 10. You’ll be able to pick up the cards at the Church office or the Preschool office a few days after the orders are processed. Remember, orders received after December 10th will not be available for Christmas gifts.

How does the rebate work? When a card is purchased, a percent of the purchase price is automatically returned to the preschool. For example, when a $100 card with a 5% rebate is purchased, $5 is returned to the preschool.

Is the value of the card reduced by the rebate amount? NO. The face value of the card remains the same.

Which gift cards are available now? There are dozens of the most popular gift cards available for purchase. A list of the merchants and card values is available on the church website and on the table in the narthex.

The Abiding Savior Lutheran Church and Preschool Third Annual Trunk or Treat/Fall Festival on October 29 was a fantastic event with fun, food, fellowship, and spectacular costumes. Thank you for your candy donations and to the church members who decorated a trunk for the event! We look forward to connecting with more preschool, church, and community families each year.

We are thankful to the youth group and all the pumpkin patch volunteers! Each class had the opportunity to visit the pumpkin patch for story time with Ms. Brenda and helped to find the perfect class pumpkin! Each child also received his/her very own little pumpkin to decorate and take home.

During the month of November, the preschoolers will enjoy the Grateful Gathering (Thanksgiving celebration with our families) on Friday, November 17, as we celebrate Thanksgiving. November Bible stories will include David and Jonathan, God Loves Naomi and Ruth, The Savior is Coming, and Jesus is Born. November themes include Health/Nutrition, Pilgrims/Native Americans/Turkeys, Thanksgiving, and Advent/Nativity. Preschool will be closed November 20-24 for Thanksgiving Break.

Looking ahead to the month of December, the preschool will be hosting a Scholastic Book Fair the week of December 11-15. We will also be preparing our Christmas Pageants for December 14 and 15 to celebrate the birth of the Babe in Bethlehem.

O give thanks to the Lord for He is good, and His mercy endures forever. Abiding Savior Lutheran Preschool has been blessed with a supportive congregation, amazing families, and an outstanding team of teachers and assistants. Have a Blessed and Happy Thanksgiving!
