Watertown Safe Haven

Volunteers from Watertown, WI (and surrounding areas) willing to assist those with a drug addiction who are seeking help in order to keep our community safe and respectable. With Watertown Safe Haven we are able to assist in as much of the process as possible. Whether that be getting you to the hospital to detox safely, giving you someone to talk to, informing your loved ones for you, or determining the best treatment center for your specific needs. After the recovery process we are also able to assist with job searches and helping you get back on your feet. With the assistance of local drug and substance abuse counselors, Rogers Memorial Hospital, the Watertown Police Department, Dodge and Jefferson County Human Services, UW Health Partners, Watertown Regional Medical Center, and many volunteers, Watertown Safe Haven is hoping to take the first step in addressing this crisis and making sure nobody feels alone.
