1 Samuel 16

God said to Samuel, "My people need a new king. Go visit a man named Jesse. One of his sons will be the next king."

Samuel asked, "How will I know which one?"

"Look at their hearts, not at how they look on the outside," said God.

When Samuel got to Jesse's house, one by one, Jesse's sons walked in front of him. They were all tall and strong and good-looking. But none of them was the right one to be king.

Finally, David, the youngest, walked in front of Samuel. David was smaller than his brothers, and didn't look much like a king, but Samuel knew right away that this boy was the one God wanted.

"David is God's chosen king," Samuel said. From that day, God's spirit was strong in David.
