

Photo Memories

In the Word

“See, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands; ...” Isaiah 49:16a (NIV)

Of the Word

Almost every home has them. They are scattered throughout the house on tables or bookshelves. Or they are displayed in a circular frame showing a progression of hair styles and smiles. The beloved, or bemoaned, school pictures. And there is always “the one” that makes you cringe and your children laugh hysterically. It is usually Mom’s favorite. School pictures are treasured by parents. They remember that child in that frozen moment of time. The memories enhance the love that has never diminished.

God cherishes us in the same way. God, who deliberately created every particle of us, carries us in His heart constantly. A popular poster reads, “If God had a wallet, your picture would be in it.” Even more amazing than a photo, our Father has a tattoo of us! He never forgets us. His unconditional love for us never changes. Jesus gave His life on the cross because He held your face in His outstretched hands.

Walking with my Lord

Lord, may my gratitude never cease for being Your precious and beloved child. In Jesus’ name I pray. Amen.
