

YEAR 2: MAY

Leader Notes:

Everywhere around the country the weather has turned warmer. Flowers are blooming and spring vegetables are being harvested. Gardens can provide many hours of enjoyment as we observe colorful blooms and harvest nutritious fruits and vegetables. Gardens can also be one's quiet place — a special place where “communing with nature” is really “enjoying peace with God.”

Access this month's devotion How, Lord ... can I find peace? and send it along with the following message to your Mailbox Members this month.

Hello from the LWML!

Everywhere around the country the weather has turned warmer, flowers are blooming, and spring vegetables are growing. Gardens can provide many hours of enjoyment as we observe colorful blooms and harvest nutritious fruits and vegetables. But gardens can also be one's quiet place — a special place where “communing with nature” is really “enjoying peace with God.”

As you work in your garden or sit on your porch, enjoy reflecting on the message of this month's Mailbox Member devotion, How, Lord ... can I find peace?

In your prayers, remember those in your life who are undergoing a time of unsettledness and pray that they might reach out to God and experience the peace that surpasses all understanding that can only come from our loving Heavenly Father.

As always, contact me with any questions. You are in my daily prayers. May your life be filled with peace.

Your Sister in Christ,
