Connecting Heart to Heart
Part III: Building Bridges by Sharon Rapp

How wide the love of Christ! It knows not class or race But holds our one humanity Within its broad embrace. How long the love of Christ! Its patience will not cease Until this broken world is bound In everlasting peace. How high the love of Christ! Beyond all thought it soars, And yet upon our passing lives Unmeasured mercy pours. How deep the love of Christ, Descending to a cross! He bears within His wounded hands All human pain and loss. All praise to You, O Christ, For love whose depth and height, Whose length and breadth fill time and space With endless life and light! “How Wide the Love of Christ” (LSB #535, stanzas 1–5)

Opening Prayer
Heavenly Father, teach me to respond to the question “How shall they hear?” with the knowledge that Your Great Commission includes all I meet in “to all the world.” Lamb of God who died for all, grant me forgiveness for missed opportunities and courage to be bold in those ahead. Holy Spirit, enable me to answer the question “Whom shall I send?” with a heart full of “Here am I. Send me!” Amen.

Opening Activity
Discuss with a partner or small group the following situation.
A family in your congregation is excited about plans and preparations for hosting an exchange student for the secondary school year. The Sunday after pick up at the airport, the congregation holds an end-of-summer picnic, and the new student and host family attend. During the meal time, you notice a couple of preteens whispering and discover that they are marveling at the international guest — who is trying to cut corn off the cob with a table knife and fork. When you mention that both the chicken and the vegetable may be held with the hands at an outdoor event, she shakes her head “no” and appears shocked at your suggestion. How do you help to bridge the gap between her table rules and ours? Between the preteens and a new member of the church family?
The Focus of Part III of our study is twofold. First, we are reminded that all of us have sinned and that the Gospel invitation is to be taken to all people and cultures. Then, we rejoice in our adoption through faith into the unity of one body, Christ’s Church. With these goals in mind, let us explore Scripture.

All Sinners, All Invited
Read Luke 15:2. To whom is the Great Redeemer’s outreach here?

There is one common culture that we all share. We are all sinful and need forgiveness. There is no difference, for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God (Romans 3:22b–23). Fortunately for us, God does not judge by external appearance (Galatians 2:6), because all our righteous acts are like filthy rags (Isaiah 64:6).
Fortunately for us, God does not show favoritism (Romans 2:11).
Fortunately for us, “God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him” (John 3:17).
List some of the words and phrases used in the New Testament to indicate that God’s love and mercy are impartial and universal.

Mark 16:15
Acts 1:8
Luke 3:6
Romans 10:12–14
Luke 24:47
Galatians 2:9–10
John 4:14
1 John 5:1
Read Revelation 14:6. To whom is the Gospel to be proclaimed?

_____________________________________________________

Read 1 Timothy 2:3–6. Why must we speak the Good News to all?

_____________________________________________________

So it has been from Jesus’ birth: shepherds, angels, wise men. Simeon, through the power of the Holy Spirit, recognized the Lord’s Christ and praised God in the temple courts: “For my eyes have seen your salvation which you have prepared in the sight of all people,” and Anna gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were looking forward to the redemption of Jerusalem (Luke 2:25–38).

All Adopted, One Body

Read Ephesians 1:4–8. By what process does a person become the child of God?

_____________________________________________________

Read Romans 8:15–17. What blessings belong “to those who are led by the Spirit of God”?

_____________________________________________________

Yet to all who received him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God — children born not of natural descent, nor of human decision or a husband’s will, but born of God (John 1:12–13). If time allows, see also: Acts 2:21; Romans 8:23 and 9:4; 2 Corinthians 6:18.

Read Ephesians 1:22–23. Who is Christ’s body?

_____________________________________________________

_____________________________________________________

Read Colossians 2:2–5. Why is unity vital from a practical standpoint?

_____________________________________________________

From a spiritual standpoint?

_____________________________________________________

Galatians 3:28: There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you [we] are all one in Christ Jesus. Jesus Himself asks the Father, in John 17:23: “May they [believers] be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me.”

Closing

God has given us apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers to prepare us for works of service until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ (Ephesians 4:13). May we be willing and eager to be transformed to the likeness of Jesus to witness and to share the Good News of the source of our salvation with all whom we meet.

Say or sing together: “Alabaré – II” (LSB #800); “Hark, the Voice” (LSB #826, LW #318, TLH #496); or the Peter Scholtes praise song, “They’ll Know We Are Christians by Our Love.”

Closing Prayer

Father of all who believe, remind us to see new cultures as opportunities, not walls that separate. Good Shepherd, we know that this is Your way. Lead us as we walk in it and seek to be Your faithful witnesses. Holy Spirit, keep us in the unity of our adoption. Grant us power, love, and self-discipline that we may not be afraid or ashamed to speak the Gospel to all and tell of the grace we have received through faith in our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We ask these things in His name. Amen.

Bible Study Editor, Sharon Rapp, past Mid-Arkansas Zone President and member of the Heart to Heart Task Force, lives in Conway, Arkansas, where she and her husband, Mike, are members of Peace Lutheran Church.

NOTE: Connecting Heart to Heart Parts I & II were published in the Fall 2013 LWQ and are available online.

For Further Study, Discussion, Reflection, and/or Action

• Practice speaking of your faith (elevator speech) with one or more members of your Bible study group.
• Identify one or more bridges that you will begin to build toward those God has brought into your life.
• Read the children’s book And to Think That We Thought We’d Never Be Friends by Mary Ann Hoberman. (Crown Books 1999; Dragonfly Books 2003).
• Try learning some words and/or phrases in another language. There are sites on the Internet that provide limited, basic instruction. Some libraries have travel courses available for check-out, and most bookstores sell mini-courses. While many towns provide introductory courses through adult education, it is not necessary that this be a full-fledged course to experience a sense of what is involved in becoming fluent in another language.