

Advanced Theological Education for International Students

Ensuring the continued spread of the Gospel overseas with informed interpretation of Holy Scripture and according to Lutheran doctrine is highly dependent on addressing the significant shortage of well-formed pastors in most countries. Many nations have few seminary professors with advanced-level theological educations. The consequence is that Lutheran church bodies in these countries are unable to adequately train and produce well-formed pastors.

Concordia Seminary is committed to addressing the concern to further the Great Commission with its Graduate School's ongoing acceptance and preparation of highly qualified international students. Most of these students, after earning their advanced theological degrees, will become master's and doctorate level professors at their countries' seminaries. They will assume key roles in raising up the next generation of pastors to proclaim the Gospel among their people. They also will serve as leaders involved in further organizing and growing their church bodies, helping ensure that those living in every region of their nations will hear and learn of the wonderful message of salvation through Christ. This grant of $100,000 will assist with the cost of education for these international students.

*Go therefore
and make disciples of all nations,
baptizing
them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit,
teaching them
to observe all
that I have commanded
you. And behold, I am with you
always, to the end of the age (Matthew 28:19–20).*

Advanced Theological Education for International Students

Ensuring the continued spread of the Gospel overseas with informed interpretation of Holy Scripture and according to Lutheran doctrine is highly dependent on addressing the significant shortage of well-formed pastors in most countries. Many nations have few seminary professors with advanced-level theological educations. The consequence is that Lutheran church bodies in these countries are unable to adequately train and produce well-formed pastors.

Concordia Seminary is committed to addressing the concern to further the Great Commission with its Graduate School's ongoing acceptance and preparation of highly qualified international students. Most of these students, after earning their advanced theological degrees, will become master's and doctorate level professors at their countries' seminaries. They will assume key roles in raising up the next generation of pastors to proclaim the Gospel among their people. They also will serve as leaders involved in further organizing and growing their church bodies, helping ensure that those living in every region of their nations will hear and learn of the wonderful message of salvation through Christ. This grant of $100,000 will assist with the cost of education for these international students.

*Go therefore
and make
disciples of
all nations,
baptizing
them in the
name of the Father and of
the Son and of
the Holy Spirit,
teaching them
to observe all
that I have
commanded
you. And behold, I
am with you
always, to the
end of the
age (Matthew 28:19–20).*