

Maunder Thursday | Submission

Submission can be a hard discipline to teach. It can feel yucky, especially in our society of “You do you.” God invites us to submit to him because He loves us, wants and knows what’s best for us. Our family rules can help model this. To practice submission this week talk about the family rules you have, then have kids share why they think those rules exist.