In the Lord's Prayer, Jesus teaches us to pray, "thy kingdom come." We pray those words every weekend and perhaps several other times throughout the week in personal devotions. But what is God's Kingdom and how does it come? Our Lord often taught about his kingdom. When he started his ministry, he called people to repent because the kingdom of God was at hand. (Matthew 4:17) To Pharisees who asked him when the kingdom of God would come, he answered, "The Kingdom of God is not coming with signs to be observed, nor will they say, 'Look, here it is!' or 'There!' for the Kingdom of God is in the midst of you." (Luke 17:20-21) Most of Jesus' parables are about the Kingdom of God and the King who acts in gracious and unexpected ways, most notably in the way the father welcomes his prodigal son home. (Luke 15:22-24) Just before his crucifixion Jesus told Pontius Pilate, "My kingdom is not of this world," (John 18:36)

Yes, the Bible has a lot to say about the Kingdom of God. Martin Luther is helpful to us in explaining it in a simple way. In his Small Catechism, he shows us from God's word that "the kingdom of God certainly comes by itself, without our prayer, but we pray in this petition that it may come to us also." In other words, the coming of God's kingdom does not depend on our prayers. God causes his kingdom to grow and expand even when people don't pray for it. But as God's people, we pray that God's kingdom would come to us.

How does God's kingdom come? Martin Luther summarizes that for us too. God's kingdom comes when our heavenly Father gives us His Holy Spirit, so that by his grace we believe His holy Word and lead godly lives here in time and there in eternity. (Luther's Small Catechism, Explanation of the Second Petition of the Lord's Prayer)

God's kingdom is wherever Jesus our King is present and graciously ruling over our lives for our present and eternal good. He comes among us by his Word and Sacraments to forgive our sins, assure us of his love and keep us in faith to life everlasting. We are God's kingdom!

And our heavenly Father is working to bring others into his kingdom as well. He is out there working even when we aren't praying for it. But as we pray that God's kingdom would come among us, we also pray that it will come to our neighbors as well. He places us exactly where he wants us as living examples of what his kingdom looks like so that others can see his gracious rule in our lives. Through us, Jesus extends his forgiveness and love to the world and draws them to put their faith in him.

The cross symbolizes the hope Christians have in Christ and the firm faith which keeps Christians steady in the storms of life. These ideas are based on Hebrews 6:19 which reads: "We have this hope, a sure and steadfast anchor of the soul, a hope that enters the inner shrine behind the curtain." (NRSV).

Tips on Reading the Bible

1. Start today - There is no better time, and there's no reason to wait.
2. Set aside a specific time each day. Set your schedule, and then stick to it. Mornings are great, but feel free to use any time that works consistently for you.
3. Read for the sake of learning, not simply to accomplish your next reading. Say a short prayer to God before you begin, asking for Him to give you wisdom and understanding, then be refreshed by the words you read!

Lenten Discipline: Denying the Self

We are at the beginning of Lent.

During the Lenten season, the church calls to our attention the sufficiency of what God gives. It points to the sufficiency of God's grace in the atoning work of Jesus. It shows us the sufficiency of faith in Jesus' work for us. It makes known the sufficiency of God's Word in faith and life.

But Lent doesn't just remind us of the sufficiency of God's spiritual gifts — the gifts that pertain to our redemption and salvation. Lent also reminds us of the sufficiency of the physical, temporal gifts of God which pertain to this body and life. In other words, it reminds us of the importance of godly contentment and of outward discipline and training of the body.

This outward training of the body teaches us not to give in to every desire of our flesh, but to learn to say no to them. And it does this in such a way that if you fail, it is no sin. It is a way to practice without putting yourself into a compromising situation.

Fasting is a good example of this outward training. When you fast, you are practicing saying no to the desires of your body. But if you fail in this, if you break your fast, you have not sinned. But you have learned something about how your flesh works, how difficult it is to fight against it, and how you need help from above to discipline the desires of your body.

Another example is alms giving. An increase in giving to the church and its mission during Lent is also a form of outward training. We all know that our flesh finds security in money and stuff. By committing to give more to the church, you are training your flesh. You are, by this outward discipline, training yourself to be content with what God gives. You are practicing saying "no" to your desires. Again, if you fail, you have not sinned. But you've learned just how powerful your flesh is — it leads you instead of you leading it. You've learned how you need help from above in being content with what God gives.

This is why St. Paul instructs young Pastor Timothy in this way:

But godliness with contentment is great gain, for we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world. But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content. But those who desire to be rich fall into temptation, into a snare, into many senseless and harmful desires that plunge people into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evils. It is through this craving that some have wandered away from the faith and pierced themselves with many pangs.

(1 Tim. 6:6–10)

Our sufficiency is not of ourselves; it is in God. Let us learn this without sin by training our flesh this Lenten season.

If all that is true, then a good question for us to ask is what is Jesus calling me to do for the sake of the kingdom. How has he graciously included me and my family and my church in his great mission to bring his kingdom to the world? That's a question that I have been meditating on recently. I invite you to join me in praying about that. What is my Lord calling me/us to do for the sake of the kingdom?

We pray it so often: thy kingdom come. Grant, dear Lord that it may come to us, and through us, to others.

Your servant in Christ,
Pastor Bill Ryden

Message from the Board President

Wow! I cannot believe it's already March. Spring is not too far behind, I hope. Most of us look forward to warmer and brighter days. For those who don't know me, my name is Dwight Sieger and I have been a member of Hope for 25 years. My wife, Cherie, and I were married in 2001 at Hope. Over the last 25 years I have been on various boards and volunteered for other projects. You will can usually catch me at the 8:00am service or at church activities.

One of the things that members have expressed to me and Cherie over the years is the desire to be informed. So as Board President one of my goals is to keep the congregation informed; from what the Board is discussing, the building needs, and the mission of the church.

To get you up to speed, the new board and I have met the last two months and have gotten acquainted with the new policy based governance that the church has adopted. On Saturday March 4th, the board will have a retreat at church. Among the following topics we will be discussing are:

Figuring out the 2023 Budget

Policy Review

Where is Hope Church at now

Voter Meetings

Next month, I will go into more detail of what happened at our retreat.

So, besides keeping you informed, I also want to keep listening to you as I have the last 25 years.

If you want to talk to me, you can catch me at church at 8:00 am, leave a note in my church mailbox, email me at cds5764@gmail.com, or text or call me at 815-474-7485 before 9pm. If you are up early, I am on the road at 4:50am for an hour, we can talk then!

Your servant in Christ,

Dwight Sieger
