I am excited for St. Matthews Lutheran! Rally Sunday allowed us to see that God is helping things get back to normal. I believe the phrase is the “new normal.” COVID has changed things and I am not sure if things will ever be the way they were.

Rally Sunday brought in a larger attendance, more new and young faces. Our worship services are moving towards the way we had worshiped prior to COVID – but with care! We have a wonderful opportunity to love our neighbors. COVID is to be taken seriously. And as our worship practices change back – we do so with safe alternatives to care for our more cautious members.

St. Matthews has seen and endured a lot over the past few years. The one thing that has not changed is the message of the Gospel.

Hebrews 13:8 Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.

The eternal promises of God through His Son remain as true today as the moment He spoke them to His creation! Recently our Bible study was discussing the promises God had made so long ago to Abraham.

Genesis 12 The Lord had said to Abram, “Go from your country, your people and your father’s household to the land I will show you. ² “I will make you into a great nation, and I will bless you; I will make your name great, and you will be a blessing. ³ I will bless those who bless you, and whoever curses you I will curse; and all peoples on earth will be blessed through you.”

God made three promises to Abraham: land, descendants and that he would be a blessing to all nations. When we think about it the blessings of these promises extend far beyond Abraham’s earthly life. They stretch through time from Abraham, to our present and into eternity itself – the new heavens and the new earth.

The promise of land is interesting – because at the death of Abraham – he owned nothing but a burial cave for Sarah and himself. Abraham’s descendants were given the land of Israel by God – but quickly entered into a cycle of falling away from God, He would take away their land, they would repent and return to God and God in His mercy would restore their land to them.

When we first look at God’s promises to Abraham – things do not seem to have worked out. God has more in mind for Abraham than we first realize. Israel thought it had received the “promised land” but we know that that is to come with the new heavens and new earth. His descendants will number the stars – in eternity they will be one nation filling the new earth and living in the presence of God for eternity. And the only lasting blessing that came to the nations through Abraham was the coming of his descendant Jesus Christ.

God has more in mind for St. Matthews Lutheran – more than a beautiful building, thriving activities and fellowship. Through Holy Baptism God makes His promises to us – our sins are forgiven, heaven is our new home and our hearts are renewed with the gift of His faith to trust in these promises. Our Lord and His promises will not change – no matter what happens!

Call Committee Update

The committee has reviewed the list of previous candidates that indicated the timing was not right to prayerfully consider a call. We have also received an updated list from the district. The next step will be for the committee to begin the process of contacting candidates and setting up interviews.

The committee recently conducted a short, five question survey which assists us in conducting interviews with potential pastoral candidates. Thank you for all who participated in completing this survey. Your input helps us to identify St. Matthews' strengths, weaknesses and direction.

As we have mentioned numerous times, this process takes time. We continue to ask for your prayers and patience as we move through another step in this process.

The Call committee.

SUNDAYS | 9:15 AM
in the Family Life Center

Sunday school is not just for kids. We are starting a new curriculum for all ages called Life-long Learning for Life-long Faith. Pastor John will be leading this study. This is for everyone, whether you have studied the Bible a great deal or if you are just starting out-this study is for you! See you there!

Sunday Morning Women's Bible Study - Pastor Pasche's office

Join Kelly Eng at 9:15!

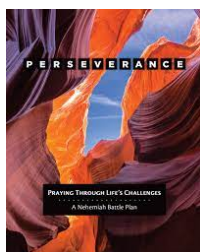

We'll be using Right Now Media to go through The Book of 1 Corinthians by Jennie Allen.

Christianity calls us to sacrifice instead of living for oneself. We have to choose one or the other—we can't do both. The Christians in Corinth tried to live the Christian life in a worldly way. Paul wrote the letter of 1 Corinthians to a divided and self-centered people to remind them to follow Jesus and only Jesus.

In this 12-part series, author and speaker Jennie Allen walks into the messy lives of the Corinthians and takes us through Paul's words to the conflicted church. We'll see how the truth of the gospel and the Spirit of God can empower us to choose to follow Jesus every day of our lives.

Girlfriends Bible Study

We all have it. That one thing that's keeping us from a fuller life. It could be a habit to break, a goal to accomplish or a lingering project to complete. What if we like Nehemiah persevered with single-minded focus and trusted God to accomplish something incredible?

Preschool News

Preschool sessions have started and the teachers are excited about the great group of kids who are enrolled. There are six children in the three-day class, and four children in the two-day class. Please help spread the word that LELP continues to have openings in every session. LELP admits students of any race, color and national or ethnic origin.

This isn't the first year that enrollment numbers have dipped; a look at past years indicate enrollment can be quite cyclical. While low enrollment is challenging from a financial perspective, it will give LELP adequate time to complete all necessary work for the state's Parent Aware program. LELP is the sole Carlton County preschool without a Parent Aware rating. Additionally, fewer children will help both staff members better adapt to their new positions and allow for more individualized attention for each student. This is God's ministry through St. Matthews; LELP is simply His vehicle to carry it forward.

Make plans now to purchase your Thanksgiving pies through the LELP fundraiser. Once again, LELP will sell a select variety of pies from Betty's Pies. Watch the church weekly bulletin and the preschool page on the church website for sale information.

Please support LELP through your Amazon purchases. Simply visit AmazonSmile through this link <https://smile.amazon.com/ch/41-6095137> and select Little Esko Lutheran Preschool as your charitable organization. For every eligible purchase at AmazonSmile, the AmazonSmile Foundation will donate 0.5% of the purchase price to LELP. LELP has posted a wishlist, which can be found through a search on Amazon.

The LELP board continues to needs more members from St. Matthews. Help is specifically needed to organize/plan fundraisers and develop marketing/social media materials. This would be a great intern opportunity for someone who wants to gain experience in marketing and/or event planning.

LELP staff, families and board members are grateful for your prayers.

Members often ask how we are paying our bills when our offerings are often short of our budgeted needs. The short answer is that we need to budget for all expenses we are obligated to pay. At the end of each month, we will show how our offerings are actually being spent. The mortgage balance as of August 31 is $135,595 after the sales proceeds from the parsonage. Any surplus funds at the end of our fiscal year (June 30) will be discussed with the congregation at the annual budget meeting.

“We Are All Beggars”

In the early morning hours of Feb. 18, 1546, Martin Luther closed his eyes forever. Before that happened, the hand that hammered the 95 Theses into the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg on Oct. 31, 1517, penned its final words: “We are all beggars. This is true.” And this is the truth that our Lord says makes you free.

Ironic, isn't it? In order to be free, you must be a beggar. You must be utterly dependent and reliant upon God. This makes us uncomfortable – the way we're uncomfortable when someone gets us a Christmas present when we haven't gotten them one. We feel we owe them. And we don't like being in someone's debt like that.

But what Luther would remind us is that we are all indeed beggars. And we're not just anyone's beggars. We're God's beggars. Christ came for sinners. He came to seek and save the lost. He came to heal the sick and raise the dead. He came for sinners, and He dwells only with sinners.

If we are to be where He is, we must be willing to be counted among the lost, the sick, and the dead. We must be willing to be beggars. We must cry out for mercy, for grace, and for his undeserved love and kindness. We must be dependent solely on Him and what He gives.

And here's the beauty: He gives us everything. Everything. Forgiveness of sins, salvation from death and the devil, and eternal life. This isn't because of any worthiness or merit in us. It is because of His divine goodness, mercy, and grace. On account of Christ's death and resurrection, the Father forgives you, saves you, and is pleased with you. You receive His love, His righteousness, His holiness, His acceptance, and His inheritance. We are all beggars. This is true.

This is the heart and soul of Christianity and the lifeblood of the Christian Church. God justifies us and declares us innocent and righteous by His grace received through faith for the sake of Christ. This isn't because of our works but because of His work on the cross. We, who once were enemies of God, are reconciled to Him and made to be His children.

This is what Luther pointed us to when He took up his pen for the last time and scribbled “We are all beggars. This is true.” We are beggars, but we are beggars of the God who does not ignore us and who doesn't pass by us on the other side. We are beggars of the One who descended from heaven to make His dwelling with sinners.

We are beggars of Him who deigns to dwell with us, among us, and – yes – still in us by grace for Christ's sake. For in the bread and cup that we bless we share together with Christ and each other the riches of God's grace. The riches of this grace – the Gospel in sermon and absolution, in Baptism, and in Holy Communion – are so inexhaustible that our cups overflow. We, who are God's beggars, are inexhaustibly satisfied, and we have something to give back in thanksgiving and praise.
