

In the Lutheran Church, Confirmation is the rite by which a baptized person, after having received a course of instruction in the Christian faith, makes a public confession of their faith, having given evidence that they can examine themselves and be admitted to the Lord's Supper. This year we confirm three young people who have finished a three-year course of study in the catechism and who will give a public confession of their Christian faith this morning. They will receive their first communion today. Welcome as a new communicant members dear catechumens!

Thank you for NOT taking flash photos during this worship service. Photo opportunities will be provided at the conclusion of the service.
