Asking God to Bless Them

Walking in love and forgiveness is difficult on several fronts. First, it goes against your sinful, human nature. Second, there's a chance others may never know you forgave the offense. And third, your heart could break as you watch God bless the offender in answer to your prayers, as if they'd never sinned against you in the first place.

John Calvin pointed out that praying like this is exceedingly difficult, and early Church theologian John Chrysostom called it the highest summit of self-control. The Bible says Job's suffering ended, and his prosperity was restored once he was able to pray for his friends who'd become a thorn in his side (Job 42:10 ESV).

However, God did not end Job's prosperity and restore him as a reward for Job's faithfulness. Instead, it was an act of grace. So, we don't ask God to bless our friends, strangers, or our enemies because we expect a reward. We ask God to bless all our neighbors, especially our enemies, because God first blessed us out of His love.

When you pray this way, you put into practice the words of Jesus in His famous Sermon on the Mount. "But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For He makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust" (Matthew 5:44-45 ESV).

That is Christ's standard of forgiveness, and it's a high one. Maybe you're wondering how anybody could possibly live that way. Look at the life and death of Stephen, the first Christian martyr. Even while his enemies were stoning him, he prayed, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them" (Acts 7:60 ESV). Therein lies one of the secrets of Stephen's great effectiveness.

Jesus is our true example of this, however, as we see in Luke 23:34 (ESV) when He hung on the cross. "And Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do'."

True forgiveness is the medicine that heals the deepest emotional wounds. It closes the door on the past, and gives you grace and motivation to move forward and enjoy the life God wants you to live.

"True forgiveness is the medicine that heals the deepest emotional wounds."

To the members of St. Peter's,

I want to personally thank all of you who helped to support the Lutheran Braille Workers, Work Center #59, Jacksonville, FL. Your generous donations of more than $800 will help continue the ministry in so many places!

Please pray for the volunteers who make these books, for the gift of these books being shipped all over the world free of charge, and for the people who receive them, that they may come to know Jesus and His saving grace!

I am so grateful for my "home" church family of St. Peter's. You continue to be an amazingly generous, mission-oriented congregation. God's blessings to you all!

In Christ, Joyce Schwebel

Ephesians 5:2 (ESV) says, "And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God." Jesus presents us with a tall order to walk in love, even with the people we don't like, let alone love. The good news is that it is all made possible by the all-availing sacrifices of our Savior, Jesus Christ.

So, forgive those that have sinned against you and accept the forgiveness given to you by others not because you have to but because you want to because of the love of your Savior, Jesus Christ!

Christ is risen! He is risen indeed! Alleluia!
Christ has died. Christ is risen. He will come again!

Thank you to Millie Winkelmann for bringing the angels made from braille pages that so people could make a donation to the Lutheran Braille Workers.

Special Presentation

Sunday, November 14, 7:00 pm
Faith Lutheran Church, 680 W. Deerpath, Lake Forest, IL

You're invited to hear the story of Fahim Masoud, an intelligence officer in the Illinois Army National Guard. He was born during the Soviet Afghan War and helped to evacuate his family from Afghanistan.

For more information, see the flyer on the bulletin board in the narthex.

Sheryl DeWitt, Founder and President of Redeeming Life Outreach Ministries, sent us an update regarding the Carpentersville location.

"After many months working hand-in-hand with professionals and experts, we have been unable to overcome zoning issues related to opening and operating the maternity home in Faith Lutheran's parsonage in Carpentersville. After much prayer and many hours of discussion, the decision was made to pursue a different location. As the Lord closed the door in Carpentersville, a new opportunity presented itself in East Dundee, a location even closer to our host congregation. We covet your prayers as we explore this option. We ask for His wisdom and guidance in leading us to the home He has personally handpicked for this expansion project. We ask the Lord to reveal His will so that we can quickly begin serving women and children who so desperately need to experience His love and support."

"Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you."
